I hope the winter had treated everyone well and you've had a chance to get out bag a deer or chase the Tahr or chamois around.

August is for me a write off for hunting calving had well and truly started and for those in the farming industry calving lambing will keep most busy enough for the next month or two.

Slowly but surely the daylight hours are lengthening and we getting a bit more daylight in the evenings that'll soon give us time to sneak out after work keep the freezer full. The Kids hunt was successfully run again on the last weekend of the July school holidays Congratulations to all Kids that entered and the parents who got out on the chilly winter nights. Big Thanks to all the branch members who helped out to make the day what it was. And last but not least our sponsors Invercargill Hunting and Fishing, Southern Adventure& Dawson Electrical.

Results are posted below

We've got some really exciting stuff coming up in the branch so make sure you get along to the meeting to find out about it all.

Congratulations to the new Gore NZDA branch President Hamish McLean it's great to see people stepping up to take on these roles, I look forward to carrying on working Gore branch and Hamish ,

Editorial

As most of you no doubt know will game numbers are up on private land that has limited hunters access, and also in the remotest parts of Doc land. The Deer numbers on Deer Farms have and are in decline.

Reason the commercial markets for venison have been at best soft, sometimes sick since 2019. Venison (and other game) are restaurant meats. Due to covid world-wide people have not been eating out as much.

The Farm venison price has improved but not back to 2019 levels. Will it improve and take the price for feral game with it? Well maybe! The world is not as stable as it was then, especially in Europe! Is Europe going to have enough gas this coming winter?

Restaurant's worldwide like gas for cooking, instant heat. Things become hard to predict in these changing times. What will happen next?

While it is hard for the recreational hunter to control numbers in the very remote, there is more that they could do in the more accessible areas if they had access. Someone had their backside on their hands when a lot of land tenure agreements were signed over the last (how many) years. The results are now showing.

Who gets the blame for any rise in Deer numbers? Recreational Hunters who else. Just read about who is blamed for the deer numbers in and around Oban.

Our game animals can be an asset for all, but they need coordinated management, not the current mess. Where land owners think, and are allowed to think that any wild game on their property belong to them! Doug Gordon

JOKES FOR THE MONTH

A Man goes into a Bakers and asks for 2 Bread Rolls..??

The Shop Man picks them up with the Tongs and puts them in a Paper Bag,

He then asks for 2 Cakes the Shop Man picks them up with the Tongs and puts them in the Bag.

The Man says :-

"It's nice to see you don't Handle the Food"..

The Shop Man says :-

"Nothing in my Shop is Handled by Human Hand"..

He then noticed a Piece of String hanging out of the Shop Man's Trousers and asks :-

"What is that Piece of String for" ..???

The Shop Man says :-

"When I need a Piss. I just pull on the String and it Pops Out"..

"That's OK" Says the man.

"But how do you put it Back" ..???

"That's No Problem", says the Shop Man.

"I just Use the TONGS" ..🤖

Wallaby Hunt June 2022

Hunters relax at base camp in the woolshed

Great trip away for few club members last month up to the Pentland hills for a wallaby shoot. We had some pretty good fine and frosty weather and managed to cull about 100 wallabies and 3 pigs. Big thanks to Neville Powell for letting us loose on his property once again.
